JANET T. GRIFFIN is the Director of Prosecution Practice. She has over 14 years of experience in the intellectual property field and has worked with some of the largest intellectual property practices on the East Coast. Ms. Griffin is a skilled problem solver with advanced expertise in U.S. and foreign patent office procedure. She oversees Feldman Gale's growing procurement practice and is responsible for the training and management of the prosecution staff.

Ms. Griffin began her professional career as a paralegal at an intellectual property boutique firm in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. She quickly caught the attention of Philadelphia's largest intellectual property law firm where she secured the position of Coordinator of Professional Staff Development. In that role she effectively managed the professional staff training operations of that firm's primary office in Philadelphia as well as their satellite offices in Atlanta and Seattle. She also designed and implemented the formal training program which continues to be used there today.

Ms. Griffin was later recruited by a large national firm to assume the position of Practice Group Manager. In this position, she was responsible for overseeing the firm's large intellectual property practice nationwide. Before joining Feldman Gale, she established her own consulting firm which successfully catered to the administrative and professional staff development needs of intellectual property practitioners.
